DROWNED.—We have this week to chronicle another exceedingly sad case of drowning which occurred in the Township of Stanhope on Sunday morning last. We learn that Mrs. Robert Stevens and her daughter a young woman 26 years of age started out in a punt from their own landing on Koshog Lake, as they usually do, to go round the point to milk their cows in the pasture field having done their milking they were returning home and when within a very short distance from the landing, Miss Stevens who sat in the stern of the boat and was steering it, seemed to take a fit to which it appears she was subject, and falling backward into the water never rose from its depths again until her dead body was rescued a few minutes afterwards by her father from the spot where she had dropped in, the water being only 4 ft. deep at the place and within less than four rods from the shore. The funeral took place on Tuesday last to the Maple Lake Cemetery and was attended by a very large number of sorrowing relatives and our friends. The services were conducted at the grave by Rev. H. Soward of Kimmount.

Serious Loss.—Mr. Chas. Leary of Anson Township met with a serious loss on Friday last by having a valuable mare drowned in Gull River. It appears that Mr. Leary had been washing his mare near the river bank and she stepped off into the deep water and was apparently going to swim across the river as she was frequently in the habit of doing, but she immediately sank and did not come up again but struggled violently, having a halter on her Mr. Leary swam round towards her head to get hold of it and try to bring her towards shore but failed to do so, in her struggles she struck him in the side and almost knocked the breath out of him so that it was hard work for him to keep afloat when a young man on the bank shoved a canoe out to him but in taking hold of it in his excitement he overturned it over him and it was with difficulty that he managed to get clear of it and regain the shore, being completely exhausted when a couple of men came to his assistance. Investigation since shows that a sunken tree top was lodged at the place and the mare's foot must have caught in the branches which held her under water until drowned. It was a fortunate thing that her owner was not drowned with her, he estimates his loss at $150.

Mr. A. Clark of Clark and Son Fenelon Falls will be in Minden on Tuesday evening next 23rd. inst. and remain over on Wednesday 24th. inst. and will be in Kimmount on Thursday the 25th. inst. when all parties indebted to the firm in these places will kindly call and settle their accounts.

Rev. G. Scott Episcopal Missionary here was ordained in the Church of the Ascension Toronto, on Sunday last, together with five other candidates, at the same time nine Deacons received Priests orders, the entire service was one of great solemnity, a large congregation were present on the occasion.

Mr. Johnston Inspector of Registry offices paid our county town a visit on Friday evening last and inspected the Minden Registry office. We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Johnson who seems to be a gentleman well fitted for the important position he occupies and in a conversation with him we elicited the opinion from him that the present registry office vault is in an unsatisfactory condition.

Words cannot express the gratitude which people feel for the benefit done them by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Long-standing cases of rheumatism yield to this remedy, when all others fail to give relief. This medicine thoroughly expels the poison from the blood.

MONMOUTH.

Correspondence to the Echo.

Perhaps the people in the west of the County will think we are dead or something but we are really making up our minds that we are better off than some other folk. Mr. J. Maguire at Essonville has fall wheat as good as can be found, and the spring crop is heavy. Farther south the hay crop is as good as can be expected and will return a fair average.

Mr. F. Austin is expending a grant on the Monmouth road making a good job of it.

The Teacher

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stoneham, Mass.

"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health."—Miss Thirza B. Crerar, Palmyra, Md.

"My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Moluncus, Me.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect."—Rev. S. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckhannon, W. Va.

"I suffered from Nervous Prostration, with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 89 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killbuck, Conn.

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, So. Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

daughter Edith and sent her out for a paper, two pears and 10 cents worth of carbolic acid. The child got all the articles.

"We heard nothing more from Miss Dane. This morning early I looked through a crack in the door to see how she was getting along and saw that she was lying with her feet toward the window. I did not disturb her. At noon I saw her in the same position and then I became alarmed and after rapping on the door once or twice called in the police."

The young woman weighed about 120 pounds. She was clad in a long night dress and was lying on the outside of the bed on the right side with her head bent downward and the eyes staring wide open. The right side of the face was shivering, burned by the poison. Her feet were uncovered. They were as colorless as marble. The hands were delicately formed. The bed, a trunk and a stand nearly filled the dingy little apartment. On the stand was the glass which had contained the poison. It had been drained to the dregs, but still smelled strongly. The bottle was missing and could be found nowhere.

By the side of the poison was a tumbler half filled with water and a small russet hand bag, which contained some strips of linen, a small purse with $10.75, a plain gold breast-pin and a clipping from a newspaper of the poem at the head of this article.

Every clue to the woman's identity was missing, and had apparently been carefully removed. Her trunk was a large one covered with brown tin. Upon being opened it was found to contain a number of dresses, several of which were of silk of good quality.

Miss Dane came to the house in a black satin dress of stylish cut and finish. One or two of the dresses were only partly made. There were also two work baskets well filled with seamstress' materials and dress-makers' patterns. Besides these there were a number of old newspaper scraps bearing a Rochester date and a copy of Marion Harland's novel "Alone," which was well bound.

The body was taken to the morgue and the police took charge of the woman's effects.

The evidence against them is that they expressed in conversation what was in the letters. Their

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Riot At St. Matthew's Church—Fatal Crossing Accident.

Toronto, July 15.—A most unseemly disturbance occurred just outside St. Matthew's Church last night. An over-zealous antagonist of Ritualism distributed tracts against what he calls "Popish doctrines and practices in a Protestant church." This was not the first time he had done so. He fared worse last night than on the former occasion three weeks ago. Then he was merely hooted and hustled by excitable students; yesterday he had a varied experience. His literature was forcibly taken from him; he and Rector Howard had quite a tussle, according to Mr. Lovatt's account. "I made several blows at him (the rector) and managed to get in two stingers on his neck." "I was choked, hit and kicked," the Protestant champion continues; "and did not think I would get out of the crowd alive."

John McCartney of Hamilton, while standing within the closed gates at the Queen-street crossing was struck by a Montreal express and fatally injured. At the time of the accident he was engaged in watching the suburban train coming in and failed to observe the express approaching. He was attended by Drs. Pickering and Stephenson and subsequently taken to the hospital where he died yesterday.

The deceased was 65 years of age. He was an uncle of Mr. John Russell, who keeps a brickyard east of the Don. He came to Toronto to take part in the Orange demonstration. An inquest will be held to-day.

The millers convention last week was a large and successful gathering. Mr. J. C. Hay of Listowel was selected president and Mr. Plow's secretary. The following resolution was unanimously passed: "That this meeting is aware of the efforts made during last session of Parliament by the miller's committee to have the error in the wheat and flour duties corrected and that we do further assert that the prime object of this meeting of millers is to endorse the work done last winter, and perfect the organization of Canadian millers for the purpose of obtaining justice." Other resolutions with reference to the disabilities under which the trade is to be languishing were passed.

A memorial was drafted to the Dominion House praying for the abatement of railroad discrimination and asking for the appoint-

"MISS DANE'S" NEPENTHE

A CANADIAN GIRL'S SUICIDE IN THE EMPIRE CITY.

Her Life Run out with Carbolic Acid—
She Carries Her Secret to the Grave—
What Was Found in Her Room.

NEW YORK, July 14.
If I were dead and thou should venture
Near the coffin where I lay,
I should know it,
I should feel it—
Something that would reveal it—
And no look of deepest censure
Rest upon the face of clay.
Shouldst thou kiss me, conscious flashes
Of love's fire through death's cold ashes
Would give back the cheek its red—
If I were dead.

Whatever clue this touching bit of passion may give is all there is at present to explain the mysterious suicide of mysterious
"Miss Dane" of No. 152 Third Avenue. She was found dead in her bed yesterday
noon, having swallowed carbolic acid enough to kill three women.

Miss Dane had said that she came from Toronto. She was a fair-faced, sharp-featured, but comely woman, perhaps 25 years old, of slight lissome figure with beautiful blue eyes, good teeth and dark brown
curly hair rather long.

Miss Dane made every effort to keep her identity a secret and she succeeded admirably. She probably came here from Canada after being crossed in a love affair or having encountered some other great trouble. She had good reasons for wishing to keep her identity secret—she found her money running low and knew that she must ere long tell her story in some hospital. This she dreaded to do. The silence of the grave was preferable.

One week ago yesterday this young woman called upon Mrs. Charles A. Morris at 152 Third Avenue and asked to see the furnished rooms Mrs. Morris advertised to let. Mrs.
Morris is the wife of a stenographer employed in the chemical house of Wing & Evans, No. 50 William Street. She came from Toronto, and her visitor introduced herself as Miss Dane, also of Toronto.

a number of old newspaper scraps bearing a Rochester date and a copy of Marion Harland's novel "Aileen," which was well bound.

The body was taken to the morgue and the police took charge of the woman's effects.

he was robbed of $1075 by Ada Knapp, also of drawn $1160 from the bank, and on the way to Buffalo Ada persuaded him to let her have all but $25 of the money, which he did. They were accompanied by two mutual friends named William Wolf and Charles Boyle.

Whitmore went to get a minister to tie the knot, when Ada skipped with Wolf and Boyle, taking the cash with her.

AND THERE IS A TENDENCY TO MORE PATRONS FOR Orange demonstration. No request will be held to-day.

The millers convention last week was a large and successful gathering. Mr. J. C.
Hay of Listowell was selected president and Mr. Flews secretary. The following resolution was unanimously passed: "That this meeting is aware of the efforts made during last session of Parliament by the miller's committee to have the error in the wheat and flour duties corrected and that we do further assert that the prime object of this meeting of millers is to endorse the work done last winter, and perfect the organization of Canadian millers for the purpose of obtaining justice." Other resolutions with reference to the disabilities under which the trade is to be languishing were passed.

A memorial was drafted to the Dominion House praying for the abatement of railroad discrimination and asking for the appointment of an independent commission such as the Inter-State Railway Commission to settle all disputes over shipments and rates. A combine on milling rates was decided to buy all wheat by inspection and certificate as to weight and quality. The Secretary was ordered to issue a daily notification sheet containing the export values of all wheats and flours, so that the country millers could regulate their prices accordingly.

Joseph Knowles, a C. P. R. brakeman was killed on the Ontario Bolt Works siding at Windermere owing to the sudden smashing of a brake rod, which threw him off the car and under the wheels. Knowles was an unmarried man and owned a farm in the vicinity of the accident.

The Orange demonstration was undoubtedly a great one. It numbered thousands, and was in order and appearance superior to anything similar of former years. The city brethren were augmented by large contingents from Hamilton, Galt and other places.
From the Orange Hall on Queen-street east to the Exhibition grounds, a distance of two miles, the streets were densely packed and the procession, which took fifty-five minutes to pass a given point, was hailed with tumultuous applause at Exhibition Park.
The celebrationists went in for games, picnicking or to hear the speeches.

Walter Lawson, a workman in Price's Brickyard, was sunstruck last week while at work and taken to his home on Norfolk avenue. He succumbed to the effects of the stroke. Other less serious cases of prostration from severe heat are numerous.

Duchess of Abercorn and Lady Althorpe

Mrs. Dane had said that she came from Toronto. She was a fair-faced, sharp-featured but simply woman, perhaps 25 years old, of slight lissome figure with beautiful blue eyes, red teeth and dark brown curly hair rather long.

Miss Dane made every effort to keep her identity a secret and she succeeded admirably. She probably came here from Canada after being crossed in a love affair or having encountered some other great trouble. She had good reason for wishing to keep her identity secret, she found her money running low and knew that she must ere long tell her story in some hospital. This she dreaded to do. The silence of the grave was preferable.

One week ago yesterday this young woman called upon Mrs. Charles J. Morris at 152 Third-avenue and asked to see the furnished room Mrs. Morris advertised to let. Mrs. Morris is the wife of a stenographer employed in the chemical house of Wing & Evans, No. 50 William-street. She came from Toronto and her visitor introduced herself as Miss Dane, also of Toronto.

"I am sure," said Mrs. Morris yesterday, "that she was a good girl. She seemed suffering from some great trouble. She would not give me her first name and she was so lady-like and reserved that I did not feel like pressing her. Miss Dane said she was a typewriter and had been in New York three months working for a downtown house. She was on a week's vacation and wanted to get a quiet, cheap place to live."

"I gave her a room and she had her trunk moved in within two hours—from where I don't know. She went to her room and stayed there nearly all the time. All that I ever got from her about her family was the fact that her father was employed in the Queen's Hotel in Toronto. She kept in her room until Tuesday, when she grew ill and began vomiting. On Wednesday she became worse and then went to see a doctor somewhere in Fourth-street. When she came back she said the doctor had given her some medicine for nervous prostration and asked me what she ought to eat. On Thursday she was better and said she would go to work on Saturday but yesterday she was very weak. Just before night I gave her some tea and a sandwich. At that time she remarked: 'Oh, how I dread going to a hospital!'"

"I said: 'Why don't you go to your home in Canada for a little while?'"

"Oh, you don't know everything," she replied sadly, and then she went at once to her room and locked the door."

"About 6 o'clock in the evening, during my absence, she called my little 8-year-old

CHEESE MARKETS.

Buffalo reports: There was a fairly liberal offering of cheese yesterday but little business transacted until late in the day, the asking price being from 1 to 2 above the offering. Weak advices from the east brought sellers out, and 5600 boxes sold at 83 including the following makes:—Marshfield 1500 boxes, Cloverfield 1800 boxes, Springfield 100 boxes, Neff 350 boxes, East Otto 400 boxes, Excelsior 400 boxes.

125c Falls reports: Cheese—The market has been very quiet, there is nothing new or interesting to say. The sales amounted to 12,290 boxes as against 11,803 last week and 10,15 for the corresponding week last year. Last year the bulk price was 94c; yesterday it was 73c. Following are the transactions: 60 lots at 77c; 36 lots at 8c; 14 lots at 81c; 6 lots at private terms and 8 lots commission. Total, 11,200 boxes. Farm dairies—Of farm dairy cheese 1090 boxes were sold at 8c to 84c. Butter—Thirty-five packages of creamery butter sold at 16c and 19c, packages of dairy butter at 16c to 17c.

Utica reports: There was a slight improvement in the market yesterday. It was hardly expected that the ruling price would be advanced over last week but such was the result. It was established at 8c of 1c better. The extreme quotation however is not as high as a week ago but at the same time the askmen as a whole

PROPERLY DIVORCED.

What an Ottawa Lawyer Writes About Mrs. Chisholm's Illiterate Decree.

OTTAWA, July 13.—An article appeared in this morning's Citizen giving as a reason why Mrs. Chisholm did not appear before the Canadian Parliament asking for a divorce, that there was a desire on her own and Mr. Foster's part not to satisfy a curious public in having her private affairs ventilated before an antiquated Senate with no judge to preside over its deliberations. The article goes on to show that if all the requirements of the American law were complied with the woman was properly divorced, and according to the English law permitted to marry in Canada. Several authorities are quoted to bear out this contention, the argument being that in Canada we have no divorce law, the B. N. A. Act never contemplating that the Canadian Parliament would deal directly with divorce cases, but giving the Parliament power to make law for the proper adjustment of such cases. The writer of the article is one of the ablest lawyers in the city, who, it is said, prepared it at Mr. Foster's request.
